THEY NEED ANOTHER FRENCH REVOLUTION***

Before some of my readers jump all over me, I want to offer an analogy. Suppose you knew that your neighbor loaded his family—wife, three girls and two boys—into his SUV to drive them off a cliff. He had been getting nuttier and nuttier over the years and, now, finally announced his plan to end it all for all them immediately. Do you have an obligation to stop him from consummating this mass murder? I believe that you do. And if the only way you can prevent him from murdering his family—your neighbors—is by killing him, it’s your obligation to do it!

This is the scenario that I see taking place in Israel. It is led by the prime minister who is aided and abetted by the members of his cabinet, most members of the Knesset and many of the general officers of the IDF. Almost on a daily basis they are becoming more irrational, more out of touch with reality and moving Israel closer to the precipice. Just like the proverbial rats leaving the sinking ship, they will be the first to skip out when it becomes obvious that its enemies are overwhelming the nation. My guess is that many of them already have funds waiting for them in Switzerland, France, England and the USA.

That is why my answer to Israel’s international problems—not even considering the ethical and moral dry rot that is eating away at the country internally—is a French Revolution. The leaders of Israel should be carted away in trucks and executed not by guillotine necessarily, but by firing squads or hanging. Perhaps it will be difficult to find more capable and honest leaders in Israel, but those selected will have good reason not to follow the paths of their predecessors.

A French Revolution may seem like a harsh penalty but it is a penalty that fits the crimes that are being committed by Israel’s leaders and that are leading to the destruction of the Jewish state.

IF YOU FENCE THEM OUT YOU ARE A RACIST, ANTI-GLOBOLIZATION TRAITOR!!!***

I won’t predict how the “amnesty” bill will eventually go in Congress, but I will explain the motivation of the Bush Administration, previous administrations and their drumbeaters in the Senate and House. To them, a “bad” is better than no bill. A “bad” bill that won’t be enforced can be made to look like something is being done to protect us from the tide of illegal immigration. This is based on the theory that you can fool most of the people most of the time. Not passing a bill will make it obvious that nothing is being done to protect our borders and our workers. The American people are unhappy that nothing is being done but they are unhappier that they are being conned into believing that the amnesty bill will make it appear that something is being done..

Let's begin by acknowledging that the Administration, led by el presidente, are prevaricating (a euphemism for lying) about the steps they will take to secure the border if this "amnesty" bill is passed. The supporters of the bill are either too stupid to understand this or they also are prevaricating.

Nothing will be done by Republican or Democrat administrations to secure the border because they don't want to stop the flood of immigrants from pouring into the country. That is why the security and employer responsibility provisions of the 1986 bill were not enforced. That's why any border security provisions, no matter how weak, will not be enforced.

One of the arguments for encouraging illegal immigration is that Americans don't want the jobs that the illegals take. Pay Americans an American wage and they will take most of those jobs. That's what happened when the Immigration Service removed the illegals from the Swift meatpacking plants. Americans were standing in line to take back their $18 an hour "undesirable jobs"-- when the minimum wage—or less—illegals were rounded up.

Have you seen the TV commercials from a Texas business group asking who's going to pick your cotton and beans, who's going to mow your lawn? What they don't say, of course, who's going to accept $5 an hour if we can't hire illegals? And when these illegals get too smart, the farmers, ranchers and factory owners will need new illegals. That's why the border will never be closed. At least until there are no more peons left in Latin America. After that, they will bring in Africans, even if they have to chain them on slave ships under the guise of saving them from a terrible existence in their native lands.

That's why America's businessmen—whether from factory or farm—want to protect the status quo of untrammled illegal immigration. And that's why their agents in Congress and elsewhere support the status quo. Since most of the American voters are unhappy with the status quo, legislation that is supposed to fix the problem (but really doesn't) is being used to blow smoke in the eyes of the voters.

Listening to a Dow Chemical commercial, I thought they said chemistry eliminates humanity. After all, I said to myself, Dow did produce Agent Orange. But on a closer listening, I realized that they said chemistry illuminates humanity. The following quote probably helped establish my mindset.

Re: Vol. VII, #8

Interesting that LIKUD spelled backwards is: DUKIL (do kill). That's how to handle the enemy.

Diogenes' Response

If you can't get the job done going forward, do it from the rear, as long as you get it done.
